The Voices of Trees with Robin
Harman

September 10-12, 2021

The Mountain Retreat Center
Highlands, NC

A Pachakuti Mesa Tradition sanctioned teacher, Robin first began apprenticeship with don Oscar Miro-Quesada Solevo, in 1993. Degrees in music, religion and the arts, as well as in-depth consciousness training with other revered teachers, inform Robin's commitment to infusing an essence of Spirit into her service to Pachamama. As teacher, she uses a focused sense of play, gratitude and wonder to assist others in distilling the depths of their most profound knowing. As healer, Robin enters sacred space to partner with spirit allies, soul, and the truth of embodied wisdom to call forth and manifest that which serves the highest good. As human, utterly in love with our beloved Earth Mother, she stands in alignment with spirit of place and often-ritualized adoration of the luminous presence of all living beings.

It begins with a stirring of the soul, a whisper in the ear, or so it seems. It exists as a call to listening, a listening with ones being, a calling forth of super-sensory perception often laid dormant by adulthood, busy-ness, and human activity.

Will you stop to recognize the trees? To hear them?

Among indigenous people, tree Beings are highly honored emissaries of wisdom and aliveness. In Peru, they are called The Malqikuna. Their roots penetrate the soulful ground of our Mother, and their intertwined branches stretch upward to receive Creator's gift of transformative Light, with all of this achieved while exhaling the oxygen needed for our human lungs, and life on this planet.

The awe-inspiring presence of trees places them among the most revered expressions of the natural world. Their model of life links Heaven and Earth, and generously sources shelter, food, beauty and provision to all of Pachamama's children.

*What the people of the city do not realize is that the roots of all living things are tied together
When a mighty tree is felled, a star falls from the sky* --Chan K'in Viejo, Lacandon Shaman

As we explore, together, what it means to be in true relationship with both seen and unseen worlds, our connection with the Malkikuna offers dramatic opportunity to awaken a bridge of consciousness between the two.

Through a combination of:

Practicing left- and right-brain journeying    Engaging in exercises of ayni and despacho
Sharing of stories    Receiving cross-cultural wisdom teachings
Being present with tree beings, listening    Activating our staffs and wands Committing to ecologically- sound habits    Performing sacred ritual

we will deepen our relationship with these extraordinary Ancient Ones. Making conscious their exquisite gifts of healing, our intent is to accept their offerings and, in turn, honor and nourish the Spirit of these most high wisdom keepers with reverence, recognition and respect.
